

Bob McLean

Musical Guest

Bob is a folksinger, songwriter and teacher with East-Coast roots. He's best known for his Celtic guitar work, folksinging and arranging of traditional East Coast and U.K. songs and tunes and, last but not least, his work with Carole Pines in the duo - MacTalla Road.

The guitar, and more recently the octave mandolin, have all figured prominently in his work. While music may be his focus, when performing, it's his intro stories and banter that set the stage to engage his audience with his music.

We're excited to have Bob back on our stage ... and rumour has it that he will play some Christmas songs and tell a backstory or two!
